PREFACE

PREFACE.

THE Twelfth Volume of the Lineage Book appears with the advent of the new century, and it contains the names and lineages of the members of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, included in the Numbers from 11001 to 12000.

If there are instances in which individual records are meagre it is due to the fact that the member has failed to supply the information in her papers deposited in this Society, or to add to them when earnestly solicited to do so.

Wherever it was possible the original records have been amplified by the addition of lineage and of historical events, in which the ancestors bore a part, thus adding value and interest to the records of many Revolutionary families.

APPENDIX.

MRS. MARGARET M. BENNETT. 11872

Born in New York.

Wife of Clement W. Bennett.

Descendant of Caleb Fulkerson, of New Jersey.

Daughter of William Goundey and Margaret Fulkerson, his wife.

Granddaughter of Caleb Fulkerson and Deborah Fulkerson, his wife.

Caleb Fulkerson, 1777, enlisted when a lad as a fifer and served under different commands during the Revolution. He was a pensioner when he died at Starkey, 1848, aged eighty-six.
